

REMOTE DEPOSIT

Remote Deposit is truly an emerging platform for credit unions from which to improve their service to members, generate efficiencies and develop highly attractive technological packages. Remote Deposit is available as part of our Home Banking and Mobile Banking packages via third party technologies. We are glad to assist credit unions in their selection of Remote Deposit third party vendors and will provide assistance for a seamless integration within our Mobile Banking product.

Advantages of Remote Deposit include:

- Service is attractive to early technology adapters
- Provides entry into a high growth market
- No special equipment for the member to purchase
- Strengthens ability to attract new members
- Consumer and Commercial accounts use the same interface
- Reduces paperwork, chance of errors and loss of checks in deposit process with no additional core transaction charges
- Strengthens customer loyalty, improves retentions and increases referrals
- Improves credit union's competitive position
